

BWS EDUCATION
CONSULTING
a boutique educational experience

Dear Clients,

Like everyone, BWS is closely watching the developments of the novel coronavirus. Given the recent uptick in coronavirus cases in Ohio, we are switching all of our tutoring to online sessions for the time being.

We have always offered online tutoring for out-of-town students and in-town students who prefer that delivery method. Online tutoring is live and with our regular Columbus-based tutors. Here's more information about online tutoring:

<https://www.bwseducationconsulting.com/socrates.php>.

Online tutoring is a convenient alternative to meeting in person. We are already set up for this and tutoring will be with your existing tutor. Please note that for the most successful online tutoring, students will need on hand their own copies of prep books that have already been recommended by their tutor.

Please email us at tutor@bwseducationconsulting.com with questions.

Sincerely,

Brian W. Stewart
