BWS Education Consulting

ABOUT

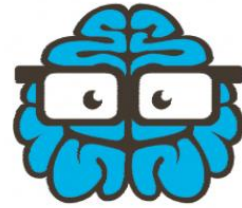

In 2012, Barron's Educational Series contacted Brian during their national search for their next ACT book author. Brian was chosen to write Barron's ACT, and has gone on to write several ACT, SAT, and PSAT books with Barron's Educational Series. His books have sold hundreds of thousands of copies worldwide.

In 2014, BWS Education expanded to have associate tutors who teach not only the ACT and SAT, but tutor students in math, science, and writing. BWS is a team of committed educators who relentlessly look for the best way to deliver educational enrichment to our clients, whether it's test prep, academic help, or college admission counseling.

REAL RESULTS

FOR REAL PEOPLE

"I would like to thank you for your tremendous help and guidance with my SAT's. Before I took your course, the colleges that I was hoping to attend seemed out of reach. As you and probably all your students know, preparing for the SAT's is a strenuous and intimidating process. You made it easy for me to learn more than just formulas, but thought processes too. You gave me the tools that I needed to excel and boosted my score by over 300 points. You have truly improved my chances for a better future." -S.D.
